COLOURED PICTURES.

With each Monthly Part of the "LEISURE HOUR" and the "SUNDAY AT HOME" for 1863 it is intended to issue a beautiful Coloured Illustration. In consideration of this new feature, the Monthly Parts will be sold at Sixpence instead of Fivepence. Copies of each Picture, price One Penny, may be also had with the First Weekly Number of each month.

For the "LEISURE HOUR" the Series for 1863 will consist of

"PICTURES FROM THE POETS."

In this Series will be "The Village Blacksmith;" "The Woodman;" "Napoleon and the English Sailor," painted by John Gilbert; "The Burial of Sir John Moore;" "John Gilpin's Famous Ride;" "The Retreat from Moscow," painted by Nicholson.

"Windsor Castle from the Thames," "Gibraltar," "Gray's Churchyard," and others of the Series, are in preparation.

The Series in the "SUNDAY AT HOME" commences with "The Prince of Wales at Machpelah," painted by Benwell; "Luther carried off to the Wartburg," painted by Zwecker; "The Loss of the Kent East Indiaman," painted by Weedon. "London during the Plague," "Scenes of Missionary Adventure," and other Pictures, will follow.

SHILLING BOOKS FOR LEISURE HOURS.

The First Volume is now ready, entitled-

REMARKABLE ADVENTURES FROM REAL LIFE.

This is the first of a new series. The papers composing it have appeared in various volumes of "The Leisure Hour" and "Sunday at Home." Even to those who have seen them in the original form, they will now, collected, arranged, and combined in order, have an independent and separate value; whilst to thousands of readers they will be altogether new. With a few exceptions, the sources of which are indicated, the "Adventures" were communicated as true incidents by correspondents known to the Editor. While affording interesting reading, especially for the young, they will be found to convey useful information about many lands. Most of the narratives have the higher purpose of impressing on the mind the reality of an overruling Providence; and some of them present, in an attractive form, lessons of Christian faith and duty. For railway travellers the proposed series will have a special recommendation. Two hundred and eighty-eight pages of good-sized print, illustrated with fine engravings, in a neat cover, for one shilling, will place this book among the cheapest issues of the press.

The Second Volume will be published in March, entitled-

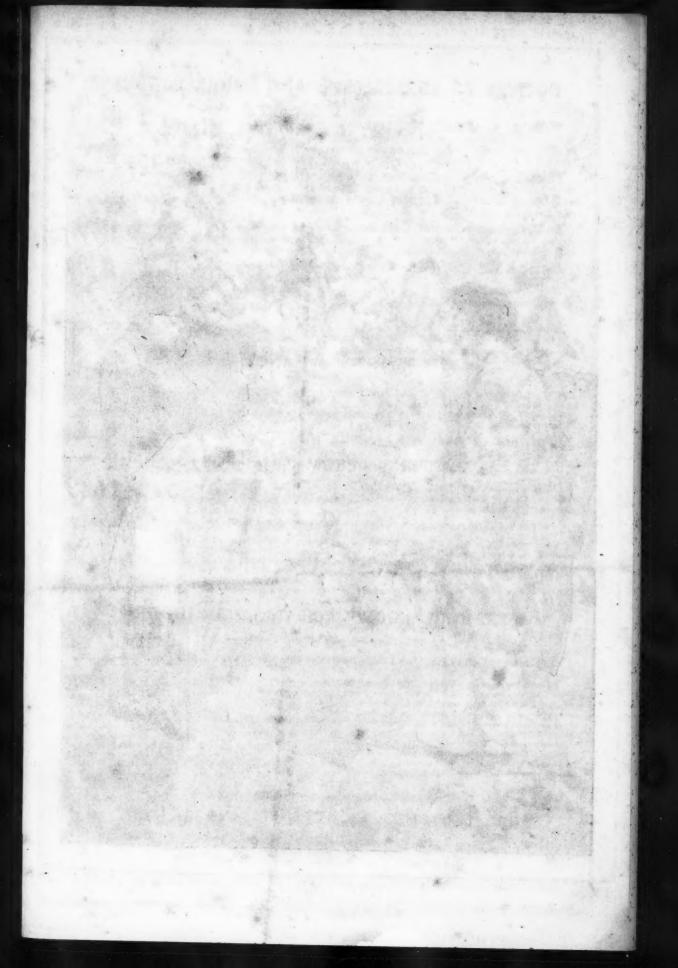

SEA SKETCHES ABOUT SHIPS AND SAILORS.

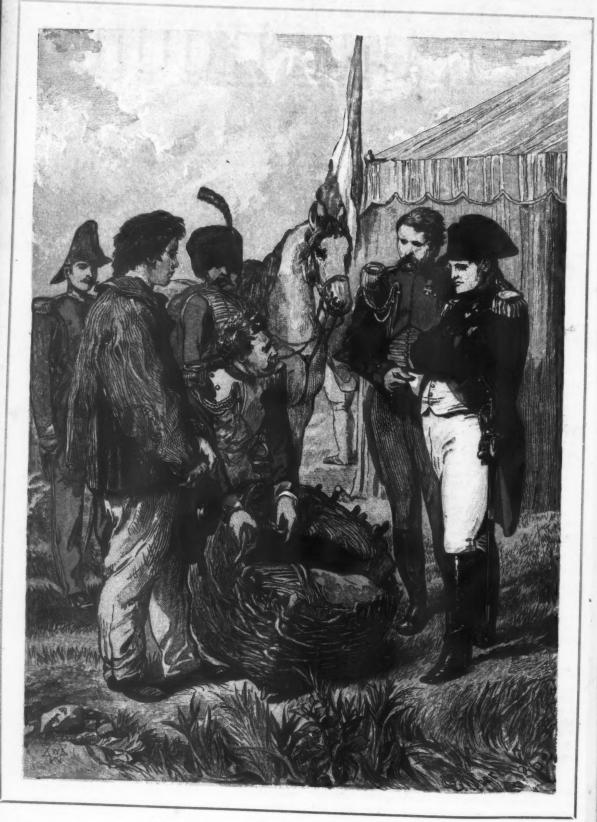

(With Portrait and Autograph of Prince Alfred).
